

Does low attention on the deciding prompt region predict failure?

